FOREWORD

High school is a time of information and formation. Our knowledge is expanded in all areas of academics, and we try to form values as guidelines for life, like purity, integrity, and loyalty. Through hard work, determination, and perserverence, these foundations can be achieved. There is, however, another area of information and formation which, for the most part, happens spontaneously. This area is friendship. We expand our knowledge of life through the relationships shared with our companions. Our values are put into practice with and around our friends. Through continued self-giving these friendships can last for eternity.

Since friendship is such an everlasting and important part of the high school experience, we, the Bon-Aire staff, compiled this book around the idea of friendship.

DEDICATION

JAMES HOPELY
1964-1979

A FRIEND

All that he came to give,
He gave and went again:
I have seen one man live,
I have seen one man reign,
With all the graces in his train.

As one of us, he wrought
Things of the common hour:
Whence was the charmed soul brought,
That gave each act such power;
The natural beauty of a flower?

Magnificence and grace,
Excellent courtesy:
A brightness on the face,
Airs of high memory:
Whence came all these, to such as he?

Like young Shakespearean kings,
He won the adoring throng;
And as Apollo sings,
He triumphed with a song:
Triumphed, and sang, and passed along . . .

ADMINISTRATION

In looking at the administration of our school and their effect on us, we can compare it to the effect of wrapping paper and string on a package that has been through a bumpy, yet successful voyage.

As Principal and Vice-principal, Fr. Horn and Mr. Steckel, respectively, have served as wrapping on the package. As paper must bend and be folded to fit the shape of the object, so have these men fitted our needs. This paper, once fitted over us, became our environment, our school community. Friendships were held together within this paper as parts to an object are kept together and from getting lost when wrapped. The administration kept us from losing each other. They have protected us during our voyage through their post office, Monsignor Bonner High School.

But what is wrapping without strings. Without strings the paper is too loose and in some cases even falls apart. The Deans of Men, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Fornias, tightened the package. They gave us the discipline and self-control to hold the package together, pull it tight, and safeguard it. Like perfect string the Deans of Men were never really too tight or too loose. For when the package is wrapped too tightly bitter wrinkles tend to appear on the paper. Yet when the strings are too loose it allows for movement, even disorder. Some of the parts might even slip out of the package.

And so when our voyage is over and we look back at it we see that all the parts are there, linked together and ready to be delivered to the world. Thank you from the Class of '82.

ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITIES MODERATOR

In any school, extra-curricular activities are vital to the spirit and fellowship of the students. This is because they offer a break in the daily grind and a chance for the students to express some of their more unique talents.

At Bonner, Activities Director, Mr. Arthur Jacobs helped to offer various activities and clubs ranging from the newly formed Ski club to the more traditional Intramurals Program. Keeping these activities running smoothly was no easy task, but Mr. Jacobs met the challenge. Once again the students were the beneficiaries as they were offered a wider variety of possibilities through which to enjoy their school.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council Officers: M. Saulino, President; P. Donahue, Treasurer; M. Jones, Secretary; K. Sherwin, Vice-President.

The Student Council was responsible for creating and coordinating various events in order to support school spirit, programs and activities. Among their accomplishments were the Bon-Fire, the Gong Show, and the Battle of the Bands.

President Mike Saulino, Vice-President Ken Sherwin, Secretary Mike Jones, and Treasurer Paul Donahue were the base of this organization which helped make the year an enjoyable and memorable one for the school community.

"Anyone among you aspires to greatness must serve the rest; whoever wants to rank first among you must serve the needs of all. The Son of Man has not come to be served, but to serve—to give his life in ransom for the many." Mark 10:43-45

With the continued support of their Moderator, Father Joe Genito, the members of St. Edmund's Guild enjoyed another year of happiness entertaining the children of St. Edmund's Home. Once again, the highlights of the year was the Christmas party. Thanks to the music provided by the Bonner Band, and the donations of the Mothers' Club, the party was a huge success. The members of the Guild truly received a lot of joy in return for their time and efforts.

COMMUNITY SERVICE CORPS

The Community Service Corps is one of two religious-based activities at Bonner. The C.S.C.'s main event every year is tutoring grade school students around the area. The group also cleaned up the school grounds, and enjoyed success with the annual bread-basketball drive.

Christmas carols were part of the festivities at the annual party.

MOTHERS' CLUB

The Mothers' Club, with the guidance of Fr. Melton, has been a great supporter of various school activities, such as the newspaper and St. Edmund's Guild. Through the financial support of this group, Bonner was able to give the student body more opportunity to participate in extra curricular activities. These ladies exemplify the true meaning of the word "dedication."

1982 BON-AIRE

Despite a monstrous workload and missed deadlines, the Bon-Aire staff succeeded in the production of the yearbook.

Under Moderator Mrs. Bette Engblom's watchful eye, the staff has produced a colorful and descriptive history of the year "1982." Co-Editors Brian MacNichol and Chris Curran kept the staff moving at a hectic pace while piecing the book together.

Karl Prior and his staff wrote the copy while Vince Horn edited the photography. Pat McCabe and company handled the Underclass Section and Vince Molichella put the Faculty section together. Bill Brogan edited the Sports section and Bob Daly took care of the Activities section. Together the staff worked very hard in putting together a very memorable book.

B.B.B.

Communication is a vital element in any environment of learning. The administration, faculty, and students must stay in close contact with each other in order that events take shape in an organized manner. The B.B.B. is a means by which the majority of this communication takes place at Bonner. Going on the air at approximately 9:10 A.M. each regular school day this year were "Streeter Glick," alias Mr. Tom Barrett, and his loquacious reporters, Dan Lawlor, Chris Curran, and Paul Dallatore. Along with Producer Joy Toy, they broadcasted a radio type program that was both entertaining and informative, covering the news, sports and social activities around school.

STUDENT GUARDS

The Student Guards were a group of select individuals picked by the Deans of Men, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Fornias. Their main job was to help maintain order and discipline throughout the school.

Although many illegaly parked students and attempted escapees at Pep Rallys may have some dislike for them, their overall service was greatly appreciated.

BAND AND COLOR GUARD

With many hours of practice behind them, the band succeeded in supplying quality entertainment at many school events during the past year. Under the guidance of Ms. Diana Satterfield, the band appeared at many football games, and various other school functions, including St. Edmund's Christmas party. The drum major was Senior Ted Donnelly. The band's perseverance and hard work paid off when two of its members, Frank Hay and Joe Leinhauser, received the honor of appearing in the All-District Band.

This year's color guard did a good job complementing the band.

An awareness of current events and their effects plays a significant role in the education process. The 1981-82 Bonner Bulletin sought to communicate information on happenings within the school, the community, and the world which touched the lives of its readers. For instance, the paper reported on efforts by SEPTA to cooperate with students, it addressed the issue of citizen crime prevention, and it examined conflicting issues such as the arms buildup. Everyone involved with the newspaper enjoyed a successful and rewarding year.

This year's busy Bonner Bulletin staff agreed to stand still long enough to record a great moment in Bonner history.

This year, Monsignor Bonner's Drama Club gave six performances of Rogers and Hammerstein's "The King and I". Under the direction of Maurice Hammel, the show was a great success! The stage crew's sets added a dimension of reality to the performances. There were six performances on two consecutive weekends. The school definitely showed that its Drama Club can put on a first class show.

The "Year of the Friar" was upon us and the Varsity football team rose to the occasion. They compiled a league record of 6-1, while their overall record stood at 8-3.

The Varsity team beat arch rival Cardinal O'Hara. Not only was this the first time Bonner had beaten O'Hara in years, but it also established us as #1 in the Southern Division. This is the first time since the 60's that Bonner has made the playoffs. After winning the first game in the playoffs against St. John Neumann, the Friars fought an unsuccessful battle against Cardinal O'Hara at Veterans' Stadium.

Although the team had lost the Southern Division Championship, this year's squad provided Friar fans with an impressive and exciting season.

In their rendition of the classic "Year of the Friar", the basketball team soared to amazing heights. They compiled a 22-5 league record.

Beating St. James in the first round of the playoffs, Bonner earned a re-match with Roman for the Southern Division championship. Success was not to be theirs, however, as Bonner lost to Roman 37-35.

The team was very successful during the season chiefly because they were able to work together. Seniors Joe Kilroy, Walt Fuller and John Keichline, all starters since their Sophomore year, were unmatched in the front court. Junior guard Tom Gormley added speed to the lineup, and Sophomore Rodney Blake added his monstrous rebounding abilities. Team effort was rounded out with the help of Jack Concannon and Tom Clark.

They were coached by the exuberant Ed Stefanski and his staff of Mr. Bernhart and Mr. Stack.

CROSS COUNTRY

Bonner runners outdistanced most of the league in Cross Country this year.

Under the guidance of Mr. Paul Croley, and with all the miles from Cross Country under their belts, the fleet-footed members of the track team were in excellent shape for their regular season.

During the winter months, the runners were on a hot streak. In the Delco championships at the end of the indoor season, Joe Kissinger took first place in the mile. His best time in that event was 4 minutes and 32 seconds. Pete Cavanaugh took third place in the two mile run with a 10 minute 13 second finish. In addition, the distance medley team finished second, highlighted by anchorman Tom Coates' 4 minute 35 second mile.

These fine winter performances set the pace for a successful outdoor season.

SWIMMING

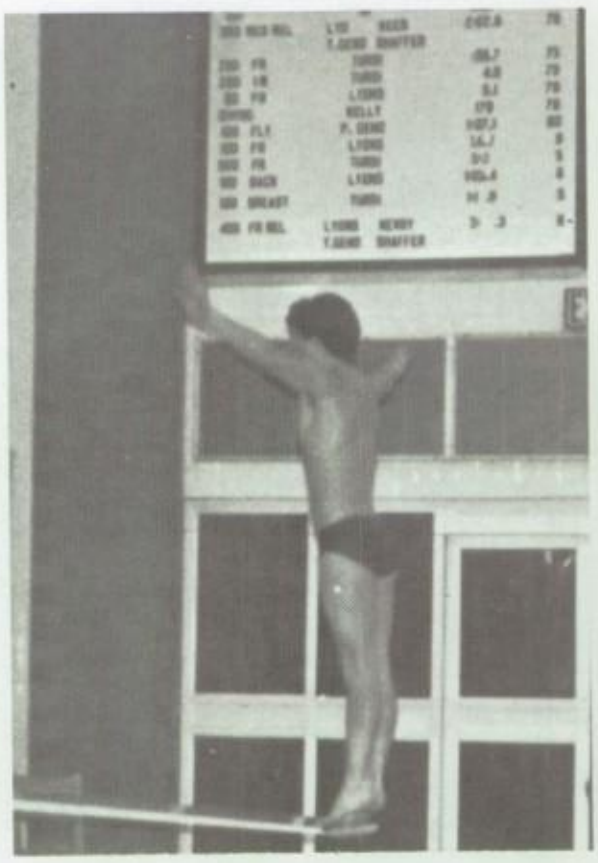
Bonner's 1981-82 Swim Team

Under head coach Jim Nixon, the swim team charged to its second winning season in what was to be a fantastic year. The team could best be described as high spirited and exciting to watch.

Junior Ray Fiedler served as captain on this young team. The Friars turned in good performances individually and as a team at the Catholic League Championships and Villanova National Catholic Meet.

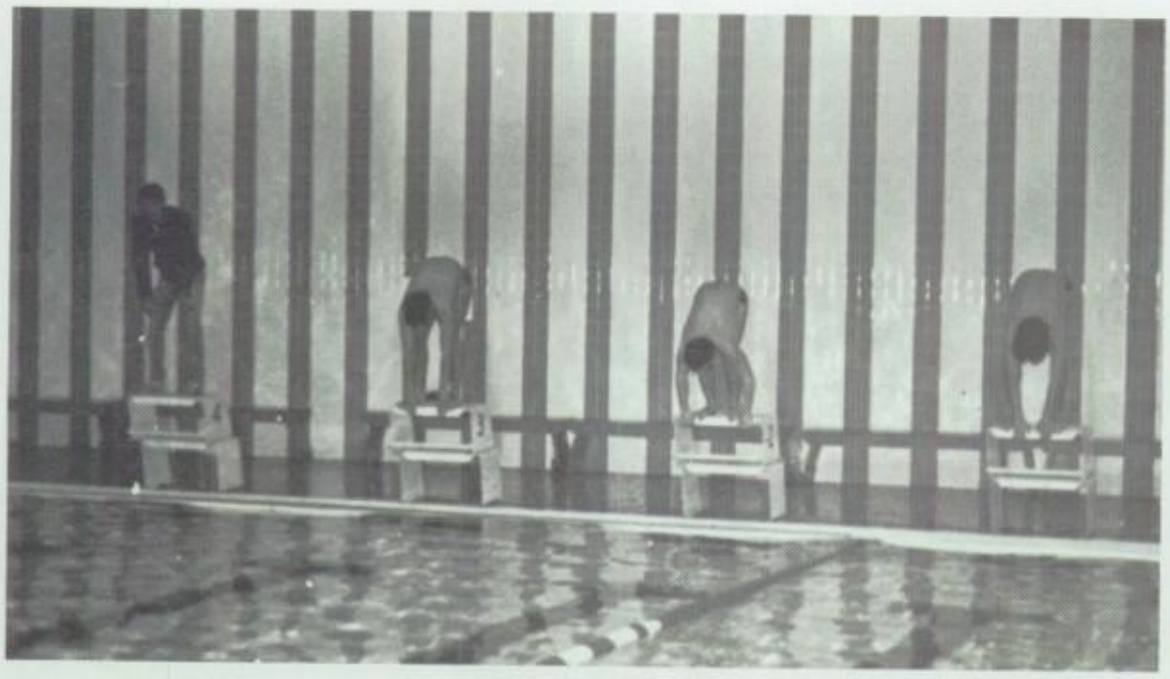
Mr. Jack Rawlings served as the assistant coach while once again Mr. Vincent Trainer served as a dedicated and inspirational Moderator. Of the 16 upperclassmen on the team 10 were Juniors, thus giving hint of a power yet to come.

Divers Bob MacDonald and Ed Burns also had excellent seasons.



Up, Up, and away, Sr. Diver Karl Prior often demonstrated his suicidal type tendencies.

The swimmers and divers practiced together, thus target diving was frequent for an unsuspecting breastroker.



They're off: Jr. Diver Ed Burns supervised Tom Gormley and Joe Shuster as they prepared to enter the waters of Upper Darby High.

CREW

In a grueling sport, which demands both endurance and power, the Crew team stroked through a season filled with many exciting virtues and a few disappointing losses. Coached by Mr. Larry Tennity, the team practiced out of the Penn A.C. Boat House on the Schuylkill River for almost four hours a day.

The Varsity and Jr. Varsity teams had winning seasons, while it took a lot of switching in the boats to get the right combination for the J.V. and novice boats.

A few highlights of a regular crew practice were: Running 3-5 miles at the beginning of practice and rowing between 6 and 9 miles each day.

The many juniors on the team performed well above par, instilling much hope for an even better season next year.

TENNIS

M. Martin, A. Repetto, B. Magee

With coach Charles Paslay lending service, the tennis team was set from the very first volley for an ace season. Outstanding performances by returning All-Catholic Mike Martin, and consistent efforts by the rest of the players put the netmen at an advantage over their opponents. Though Wood, Dougherty, and LaSalle were tough competitors, the Friars proved themselves to be playoff contenders.

They destroyed all opponents in the first half of the season and kept up the pace in the second half. Their season climaxed with an unbelievable victory over Archbishop Ryan in the finals.

Coached by Mr. Tony Truco, the team looked impressive and awesome all season. Seniors Dan Reardon, Tom Brawn, Junior Lou Bevilaqua, and Sophomore John Sulinay received All Catholic honors. The team's final record was 35-7.

Good follow through on this shot brought another winning strike.

The mix of experience and talent allowed Bonner to have the confidence needed for a strong season. With a firm coaching staff including Coach Bob "Fox" Stratton and Coach Bob Vent, the team was successful in handling its opponents.

We are all travelers in the wilderness of this world, and the best that we find in our travels
is an honest friend.

SENIORS

With the steadfast dedication and guidance of our moderator, Father Mike Burbine, we, the members of the Class of 1982, have weathered our seasons at Bonner.

We entered Bonner as Freshmen in the Autumn of 1978. Just as the Autumn brings a change in weather, scenery, and in sports, so too, our Freshman year was one of change. High School was a new experience for us all, one which required us to make necessary adjustments in our lives. Our leaves of childhood fell, making room for new experiences and ideas.

It's not long before Autumn ends and Winter hits head on, with less daylight, storms, and the constant cold, Winter seems to be the longest season of the year. Likewise, our Sophomore year was long and stormy. No longer considered children, we took on the roles and responsibilities of young men. We encountered more snowdrifts in our lives, and were forced to plow through them ourselves.

As the chill of Winter fades, Spring, the season of growth, bursts out everywhere. Similarly, our time as Juniors was one of bursting growth. Friendships which were sprouting during our first two years were now taking deep root. Many of us came out of hibernating with an enriched awareness of ourselves and others.

Gradually, Spring matures into Summer. The freedom of Summer brings with it many opportunities for fun. The same can be said for our Senior year. Though still in school, we enjoyed more freedom then in previous years. Though we swam in good times, we still had to wade through a pool of decisions about life and the future. Hopefully we are in better shape because of it.

We, the members of the Class of 1982, have completed a revolution in life. Bonner has given us the momentum to enter the next turn.

VO-TECH

The Vo-Tech program has continuously produced a wide variety of training for the future careers of many Bonner students. The programs at Marple and Folcroft have ranged from Diesel Mechanics to Graphic Arts.

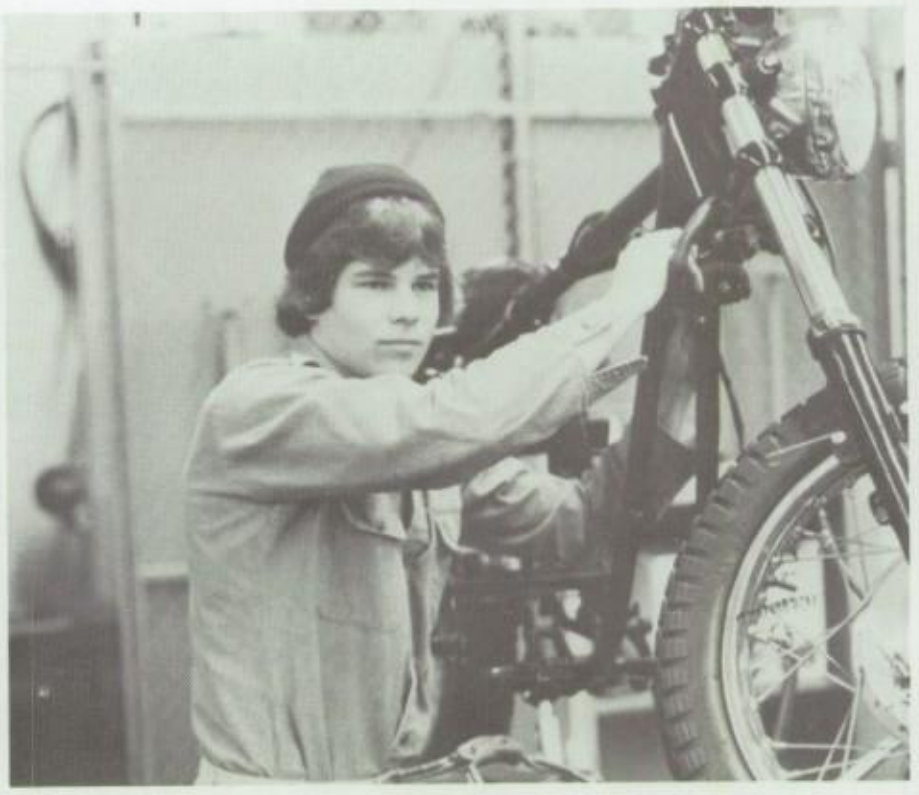
Through these programs, students have received valuable experience and on-the-job training in the areas that many of them will make their careers. The students have also taken courses at Bonner, thus combining the idea of a basic education with an actual on-the-job education.

S. Sipio and J. Kissinger check the equipment's vital signs.

Another satisfied customer, C. Priemon puts the screws to P.E.

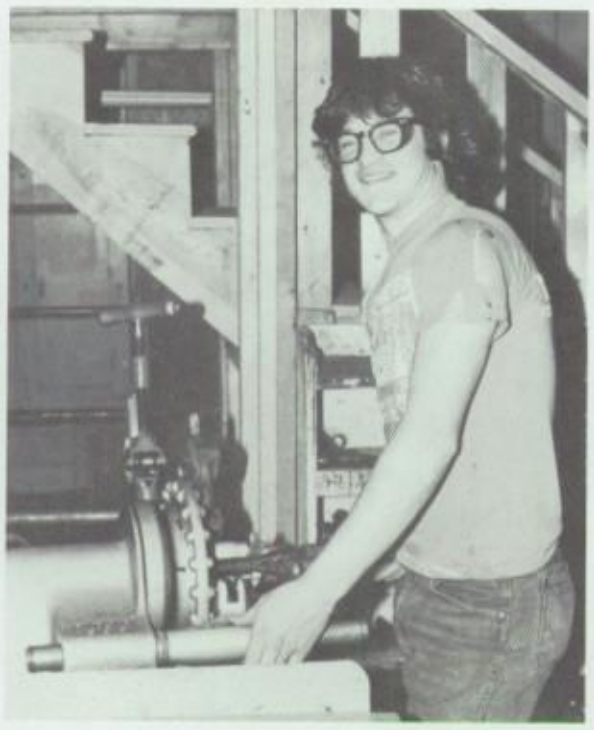
E. Sheehan confidently demonstrates the fine art of auto mechanics.

"And that's the way it was," quotes K. O'Brien.

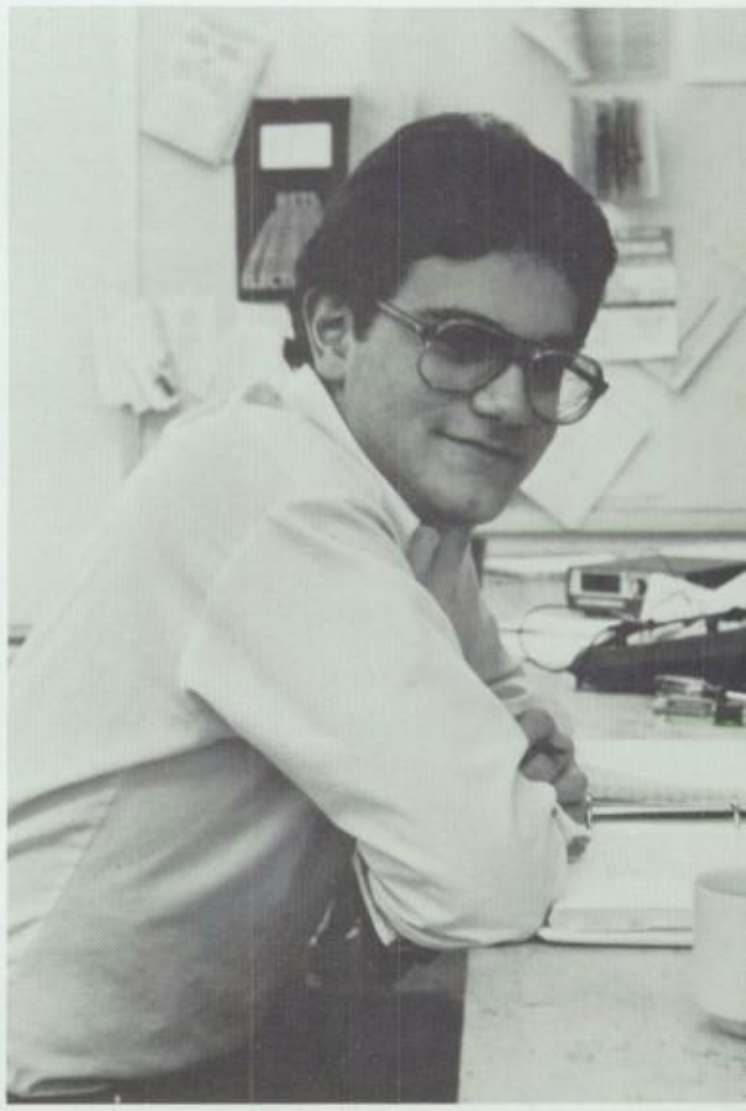


T. Dougherty learns to put a cycle together from scratch.

C. Kelly takes a break from his hectic schedule.



"With a name like Schmucker, it has to be good."

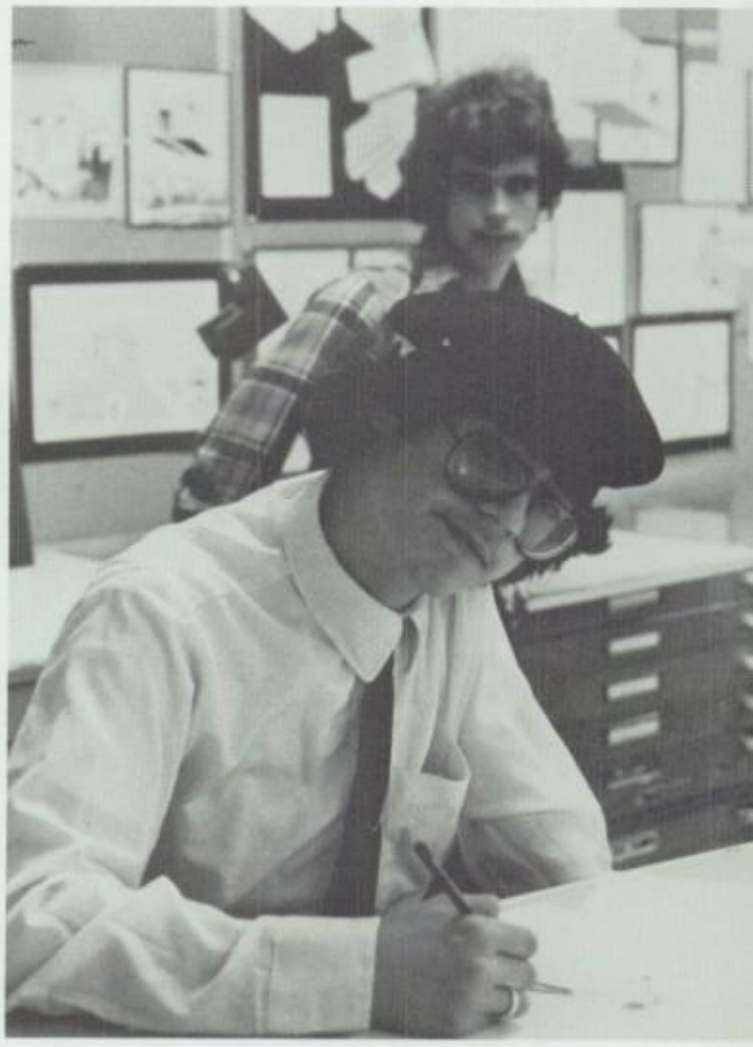


T. Digirolomo practices the pose of the successful executive.

K. Dorian ponders the world situation.

D. Haley, working on home construction, shows the versatility of the Vo-Tech program.

Two level headed carpenters Steve Gillin and Chris Mulholland are framed.



Tim Brough contemplates the BEYOND.

And this one lets you listen to the dean of men.

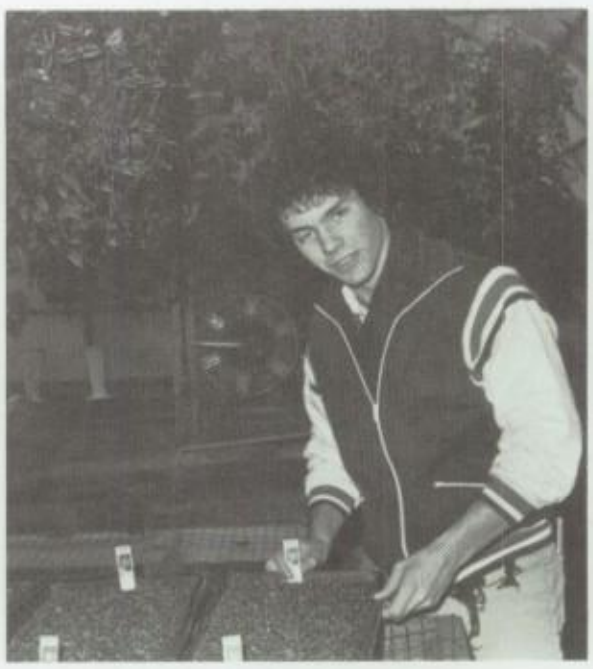
Some Vo-Tech students are pressed for time.

Moe, Larry, and Curly hard at work.

William Bossard—Does cut rate work?

Ed Boyle—Ah, come on guys, don't let the car down on me.

Tom Kelly sets the controls for the heart of the sun.



Steve Shaehle plants his seeds.

Bob Coates is not worried about being drafted.
